

Kuang Jun

Kuang Jun was graduated from Department of Sculpture, China Central Academy of Fine Arts in 2002. He participates in UNMASK with works combining sculpture and design concepts. His first solo exhibition in Taiwan will be held in Michael Ku Gallery in December 2014. These works continue aesthetic aspects in UNMASK and dive into self exploration.

UNMASK receives AAC Chinese Annual Young Artist Award in 2007. Its works explore new presentation and creative concepts based on classic sculpture training. The first exhibition, UNMASK 2002-2006, in 2006 proposes a next-generation sculpture model with fragmented figure Translucent series. 0°—UNMASK 2009 further creates new languages with mixed materials in sculpture. The 2011 exhibition, shopping, criticizes extravagant and ridiculous consumerist society with exaggerative topics and forms. Flash Memory in 2011 strikes a perfect balance between fantasy and reality, as well as classic and contemporary.

Kuang now lives and works in Beijing.
